

Mohammad Fallah holds Master degrees in Geology and Sedimentology from Tehran University.

After 5 years working in Zagron and south Caspian basins for KEPS and NorskHydro as a geologist, in 2007, he joined OMV. Then he was actively involved in several exploration projects (e.g. Oman, Qatar, SE Turkey, Kurdistan region of Iraq, onshore Libya, onshore Yemen, offshore Madagascar, offshore East Mediterranean, Austria, and offshore western Black Sea).

He recently played a major role in HanAsparuh block play-opener deep-water discovery in Black Sea offshore Bulgaria.

Currently, Mohammad Fallah is the Department Manager for Exploration Ventures in OMV head office in Vienna.
