

Carsten Weid

Carsten, Head of Risk Management in Germany, is focusing with his unit on all types of risk management services; from qualitative screenings to full quantitative modellings of industrial sites. Having worked in the field of risk management for 15 years, he also supports clients as independent leader and method experts during the investigation of severe incidents, linking the root causes of the latter to specific management system factors. Driving digitalization DNV GL's service portfolio and keeping pace with the technical industry trends is a nature of his daily business. As interface manager towards DNV GL's test site Spadeadam, Carsten connects the Research & Development site with the everyday business.
