

Ryan Pereira: Global Director – Gas & LNG

ryan.pereira@gaffneycline.com

Ryan Pereira is Global Director in the global gas & LNG group at GaffneyCline. Based in London, Ryan has extensive international experience and cultural awareness having completed assignments across Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Asia Pacific, North America and the Caribbean across the downstream, chemicals, midstream and LNG, and upstream sectors. He holds a degree in economics and qualifications in management accounting, corporate finance and treasury, and project management.

Ryan has over 18 years of experience in the energy sector, from industry and advisory roles with majors (ExxonMobil) and operators (Centrica Energy), as well as working with joint venture parties and national oil and gas companies.

Since joining GaffneyCline in 2014, Ryan has led projects covering LNG import and exports, gas to power, M&A, gas disputes and arbitrations, gas market and utilisation studies, gas and power energy market reform, delivery of LNG training and has authored several articles and book chapters for external publications covering global gas markets. Ryan created and stewards GaffneyCline's Global LNG Supply and Demand model, and has been involved in all of GaffneyCline's LNG export and import/FSRU and gas to power projects since 2014. In addition, he is a co-chair of the AIPN LNG SPA Committee.

Ryan has closely followed the recent rise in dialogue surrounding the energy transition challenge, and the role that the gas and oil industry have to play to support and supplement the rise of renewables and the race to decarbonisation of global energy systems. He is fascinated by the opportunities that gas and LNG present in the Balkan & Black Sea region.

GaffneyCline

Nick Fulford (Global Head of Gas & LNG) and Ryan Pereira (Global Director – Gas & LNG) lead GaffneyCline's Global Gas and LNG practice, advisors in the end-to-end gas value chain.

More broadly, GaffneyCline, founded in 1962, provides technical, commercial, and strategic advice to our clients across the upstream, midstream and downstream sectors of the oil and gas industry. In 2018, GaffneyCline formally established a Carbon Management practice to address growing client needs in this area.

The list of GaffneyCline's clients is diverse and includes Majors, Independent Oil Companies, National Oil Companies, regulators / government ministries, trading houses, service companies as well as legal and financial institutions.
