

Nicoleta Dima is a Principal Banker in the Natural Resources team at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development in London. She has extensive experience in structuring both debt and equity transactions in South Eastern Europe in the oil and gas sector. Previously, Mrs Dima worked as an equity analyst with ING Bank in Bucharest where she covered utilities.

Nicoleta holds an MSc in Financial Economics from the University of Oxford - Said Business School, a PhD in economics from the Academy of Economic Studies in Bucharest and is a CFA charter holder.