

Rachel Bannette
Principal Consultant: Risk and Safety Team
ERM

A psychologist by background she has nearly 20 years Health and Safety experience – starting her career in the Rail Industry before moving into Risk and Safety Consulting and focussing on Oil and Gas -Process Safety, Management Systems, Leadership and Culture. Her specific areas of expertise are in development and implementation of management systems, bowtie training design and delivery, integration of Human Factors in Safety Cases, process safety culture and the design and effective implementation of safety critical procedures, systems and standards. She has expertise in designing effective workforce participation integrating this successfully as part of technical risk and safety programmes.